APPENDIX 1:
SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS FOR
ELECTRONICALLY PRODUCED OR STORED MATERIAL

1. All Document data in electronic format must be scanned and confirmed free of computer viruses and provided with passwords necessary to access them.
2. Produce Documents in the order in which You maintained them in Your files, in copies of their original file folders, labeled with the folder's original file labels.
3. All attachments to responsive Documents shall be produced attached to the responsive Documents.
4. Provide a key to all abbreviations used in the Documents and attach the key to the appropriate Documents.
5. No portion of any Document shall be masked and the entire Document shall be produced.
6. If a Document is responsive to more than one request, it shall be clearly marked to so indicate.
7. Indicate the Request(s) to which each Document or answer responds in a metadata field titled "Request No."
8. Hard copies of Documents to be produced in response to this Request shall be produced in the following electronic format:
 - a. Create electronic copies of the Documents and produce them in accordance with the procedures described below, provided that You retain the originals from which the electronic copies were made until the final disposition of the matter;
 - b. Include a load file with corresponding information, including the following data fields: BegDoc, EndDoc, Custodian, DocTitle, Filename, and Request No.;
 - c. The Custodian field in the load file should contain the identity of the custodian or the location from which the hard copy Document was taken; and
 - d. The Request No. field should contain the number of the Request(s) to which the Document is responsive.

9. Documents produced electronically and electronically stored information shall be produced in accordance with the following instructions:
- a. Image Files: Any Documents produced in response to this Request should be provided as a Group IV compression single-page “TIFF” image at 300 x 300 dpi resolution and 8.5 x 11 inch page size that reflects how the source document would have appeared if printed, and which are named for the Bates number of the page. Do not produce more than 1000 images per folder.
 - b. Text Files: Document level extracted text files should be provided for each Document produced. To the extent that extracted text does not exist, the images should be run through Optical Character Recognition (“OCR”) so that they are fully searchable. Document level text files shall be named with the Bates number of the first page of the Document.
 - c. Document Unitization: Each page of a Document shall be electronically converted into an image as described above. If a Document is more than one page, the unitization of the Document and any attachments and/or affixed notes shall be maintained as it existed in the original when creating the image file and appropriately designated in the load files. The corresponding parent/attachment relationships, to the extent possible, shall be provided in the load files furnished with each production.
 - d. Bates Numbering: Each page of a produced Document shall have a legible, unique Bates number page identifier electronically branded onto the image at a location that does not obliterate, conceal, or interfere with any information from the source Document. In order to ensure that the Bates numbers do not obscure portions of the Documents, the images may be proportionally reduced to create a larger margin in which the Bates number may be branded. There shall be no other legend or stamp placed on the document image, except those sections of a Document that are redacted to eliminate material protected from disclosure by the attorney-client or work product privileges shall have the legend “REDACTED” placed in the location where the redaction(s) occurred or shall otherwise note the location and/or location of the information for which such protections are claimed. If You have previously produced Documents, begin the Bates number for subsequent productions with the Bates number following the Bates number of the last Document page produced.
 - e. File Naming Conventions: Each Document image file shall be named with the unique Bates Number of the page of the Document in the case of single-page TIFFs, followed by the extension “TIF.” Each Document shall be named with a unique Document identifier. Attachments shall have their own unique Document identifiers.
 - f. Production Media: All Documents should be produced on CD-ROM, DVD, or external hard drive with standard Windows PC compatible interface (“production media”). Each piece of production media shall identify a production volume number corresponding to the production “wave” the Documents on the production media are associated with (e.g., “V001,” “V002”), as well as the volume of the material in that production wave (e.g., “-001,” “-002”). For example, if the first production wave comprises document images on three hard drives, You shall label each hard drive in the following manner: “V001-001,” “V001-002,” and “V001-003.” Additional information shall be identified on the physical production media including: (i) text referencing that it was produced in this matter, captioned In re OpenAI OpCo, LLC, (ii) the producing party’s name, (iii) the production date, and (iv) the Bates number range of the Documents contained on the production media.

- g. Load Files: Load files shall be produced with each production of Documents with extracted metadata for each Document (“objective coding”) included in the load file. The data load file shall include the fields and type of content set forth below. Objective coding shall be labeled and produced on production media in accordance with the provisions set forth above.
 - i. The data load file should contain all of the metadata fields (both system and application—see list below) from the original Native Documents with an extension .CSV or .TXT for loading into the review platform.
 - ii. The load file of extracted metadata should be delimited with the Concordance default characters—ASCII 124 for the comma character and ASCII 094 for the quote character. All values in a multi-value field shall be separated by a semi-colon ASCII 059. The use of commas and quotes as delimiters is not acceptable.
 - iii. The header row for the load files should contain the metadata field names which are listed below.
 - iv. The image load file should contain an extension .OPT or .LFP.
- h. Native Format for Excel and Access and Proprietary Databases: To the extent that requested Documents exist in Excel or another spreadsheet program, produce the Document in its native format. To the extent that the Document format constitutes a database created or maintained in Access or another software program, produce the Document in its native format. If the database is based upon proprietary software, produce whatever keys and instructions are necessary to review it. Documents stored in proprietary databases should be produced in such a way that the data, information, and functionality of the original database(s) are maintained. A single page TIFF image placeholder should be provided for each Document provided in native format. Each TIFF placeholder shall contain the phrase “DOCUMENT PRODUCED IN NATIVE FORMAT” and contain the Bates number corresponding to the native file.
- i. PowerPoint Presentations: Presentations should be produced in full slide image format along with speaker notes (which should follow the full images of the slides) with related searchable text, metadata, and bibliographic information. Presentations should also be produced in native format (e.g., as .PPT files). The linked native file name should also match the BegDoc with the appropriate file extension.

- j. Audio and Video Data: These specifications do not address the production of audio/video data. Care must be taken to ensure that all responsive audio and video data and their metadata are preserved. These data types may be stored in audio or video recordings, voicemail text messaging, and related/similar technologies. However, such data, logs, metadata, or other files related thereto, as well as other less common but similar data types, should only be produced after consultation.
- k. Production Exception Handling: Any Documents produced which cannot be converted to a TIFF image due to a processing error shall be reported along with the corresponding Bates number. Once an exception report for production is received, the State may request to see the native file for that exception.
